

I am strongly opposing proceeding 02-278 which would allow banks in Indiana to override the strong Indiana do not call list. I absolutely do not want my privacy invaded by telemarketing calls of any kind. In fact, I feel strongly that the current exceptions in the law should all be disallowed. If I want to do business with a bank or any other organization, I will contact them directly. I am a former banker and I know first-hand about their intrusive telemarketing campaigns during loan "sales" (or other "sale-of-the-month" campaigns.) Ever since the Indiana law went into effect, I have enjoyed peace and quiet at home and want it to keep it that way.
